

RISK AND PROTECTION FOR YOUR HOME

Fire and burglary protection are a matter of course or obligatory for your home. Smoke detectors and alarm systems are often standard. However, protection against water damage is still neglected by many homeowners and tenants.

Europeans estimate these hazards for residential properties to be most likely:

FIRE 62%

BURGLARY 47%

WATER 44%

However, water damage is much more frequent: More than every other household in Europe has already suffered a water damage incident.

Common safety precautions to avoid water damage during absence:

73 %

leave their house keys with friends or neighbours

close the water supply line of the washing machine to prevent water from escaping

close the main water line

A reliable solution against water damage:
smart security systems such as GROHE Sense and GROHE Sense Guard

67%

of Europeans are interested in water security systems

3%

have already signed up for a security system against water damage
